

Re: Quiring Jellis merges with Spagnuolo and Company Real Estate Lawyers

Spagnuolo and Company Real Estate Lawyers is extremely excited to announce its merger with Quiring Jellis Legal Offices. Effective March 10, 2008, Chris Quiring and his staff are joining forces with Spagnuolo and Company Real Estate Lawyers. Mr. Quiring will remain in the Lower Mainland until the end of June, and then move to Kelowna to help grow Spagnuolo and Company in the Okanagan.

Both firms have built their business on the premise of excellent client experience. The staff at Quiring Jellis will join Spagnuolo and Company and will stay in the Langley office, giving the firm a strong presence in the Fraser Valley. The clients of Quiring Jellis will continue to use the existing staff and Chris is still at the office, both of which will ensure a smooth transition for our clients. In addition, clients may now use any of the 12 office locations of Spagnuolo and Company to meet a lawyer. Clients may select an office in virtually any city in the Lower Mainland to sign their documents, and take advantage of weeknight or weekend appointments.

Further enhancements will be forthcoming with the simple thought being to enhance the client experience. Watch for improvements to our website and other areas in the near future.
